PROBE IS STARTED.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Feb. 18. (UP)— An investigation was started here today to determine who gave John Burns and Samuel Baxter, the revoler which is believed to have been used in the murder of deputy sheriffs John Grove and Wallace McClure.

Authorities here are almost certain that the .30 calibre bullets that ended the lives of the two deputies had been fired from a weapon carried by the criminals themselves inasmuch as the deputies' guns were of different bore.

With the finding of the bodies of the slain deputies in a woods near Covington, Thursday, efforts now are being concentrated on a search for the murderers. Sheriff C. E. Johnson and his staff are kept busy mailing photographs and fingerprints.

SCHOOL BOARD PASSED PLANS FOR BUILDING

MEETING WAS HELD AT HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING FRIDAY AFTERNOON.

BOND ISSUE TO BE $56,000

New Structure To Be Built On Ground Floor and Story Building Plan —Architect Present.

Plans for the Second Ward School building were passed by the School Board in a meeting held in the high school building Friday afternoon.

William McGuire, Indianapolis architect and a member of the firm of McGuire and Shook, was present at the meeting. The new school will be what is commonly called a ground floor and one story building.

The basement will be under part of the building and will be three and one half feet below the surface. Above the ground floor will be the school proper. The basement will be under all of the class rooms and corridors but will not be under the Assembly room, which will be located at the rear of the building.

The front of the structure will face Anderson street and four classrooms will be included in the part facing the street. The other classrooms will adjoin the classrooms at the east and west ends of the building. The Assembly room will be to the back of the building at the end of the corridor at the entrance.

If the need arises for more classroom facilities the rooms can be added to the rear of the building joining onto the other classrooms on either side.

The bond issue will be for a total of $56,000. This will include all expenses such as the cost of the building, architects, fees, all furniture, fixtures and attorneys fees.

DPU STUDENTS WILL TEACH IN WARD SCHOOLS

THIRD YEAR FOR CHARACTER EDUCATION TEACHING TO START MONDAY.

The third year for the teaching of character education in the schools of Greencastle will open Monday. In the classes will be enrolled approximately 750 pupils in the grades 1 to 6 in the four elementary school buildings. The teachers for the most part are from classes in the department of religious education of DePauw university, although it has been necessary to secure assistance from certain qualified teachers from other departments.

Materials of instruction will be drawn from life experiences of the pupils, from history, geography and literature, and from the Bible. The emphasis will be placed upon developing conduct controls on the part of the pupils, rather than upon information, as such. Many practical projects will be encouraged, such as would help the children to live together more happily and with greater good will.

Personal virtue will likewise be stressed, particularly as expressed in play, in class work and at home. Some of the public school teachers volunteered the information that they were confident the classes aided in reducing disciplinary problems last year, and the work is expected to bring even bigger results this year.

The courses will open Monday and continue through May 4.

PEDESTRIAN INJURED BY AUTOMOBILE

ROY TAYLOR STRUCK BY MA-CHINE. WALKING ON LIME-DALE PAVEMENT.

INJURIES NOT SERIOUS

Ralph Crawley and John Evans Could Not See Pedestrian Due To Fog Friday Night.

Ray Taylor, living on Route 7, this city, was painfully injured, and narrowly escaped more serious injury late Friday afternoon when he was struck by a Ford coupe, while walking on the Limestone pavement. The men in the car, Ralph Crawley and John Evans did not see the man until the fender of the Ford threw him onto the pavement, and on over into the ditch. Due to the murkiness of the night, it was difficult to see anything within a short distance.

It was feared by the men at first that Mr. Taylor had been fatally hurt.
 He was taken to his home nearby, and Dr. McLaughlin called. It was found that his injuries, although painful were not serious. He is suffering from a badly sprained arm and cuts and bruises.

MANY NATIVES FALL IN FIGHT BETWEEN TRIBES NEAR JERUSALEM.

LONDON, Feb. 18. (UP)—More than 200 natives were killed in Trans-Jordania frontier fighting the Daily Express said today in dispatches from Jerusalem.

The battles occurred between the Mejd Mutair Wahabi tribe led by Sheikh Faisal Ed Dowish and the Bedouins led by Dene Sakr after Dow-ish had asked the Bedouins for tribute in the name of King Ibn Saud, Sultan of Mejd.

When the Bedouins refused, the Wahabis attacked and killed 120 men of the Bedouins. Dene Sakr ordered a counter attack and in the fighting more than 100 Wahabis were killed and the rest of the force was routed.

Wesley Delivered Good Chapel Talk

IS EXECUTIVE SECRETARY OF INTERCOLLEGIATE PROHI-BITION ASSOCIATION.

Friday morning at University chapel Lofton S. Wesley, the first of the graduated Rector scholars to return and speak in Meharry hall, spoke on the subject of prohibition.

Mr. Wesley, when he was here was one of the best students of his class.
 He is now executive secretary of the National Inter-collegiate Prohibition Association with headquarters at Washington. Since graduating he has spent his time in going from one school to another lecturing on the subject of prohibition.

In beginning his talk he said that the public was generally in sympathy with him since he was such a young man to be speaking on a subject such as this.

He said that there has never been a subject so much discussed and so little known about as this subject of prohibition. To be capable to discuss this subject with some degree of intelligence a person must know a bit of the underlying principle. Most people do not.

Society has always tried to put a halt on the liquor flow every where but it has generally used a positive method. Since liquor in itself is a negative quantity therefore another negative quantity must be used in order to make the result positive.

Now prohibition is being used as this other negative element.

Recently a man tried to get $50,- 000 worth of insurance in an eastern city but because the insurance company had been the loser in a few other cases where they had lost money on men who want to indulge in intoxicating liquor they would not grant him the insurance.

In closing Wesley quoted Lincoln as saying that when we were trying to do right then right was sure to come.

Before graduation Mr. Wesley made his home in Greencastle. He is also a member of Kappa Phi Sigma fraternity.

Christian Church
 To Start Campaign
 Sunday Morning

ATTENDANCE CAMPAIGN WILL LAST UNTIL EASTER MORN-ING—WIDE MOVEMENT.

Sunday morning the First Christian Church will begin an eight weeks attendance campaign leading up to Easter Sunday. The membership has been divided into four sections following the divisions of the Woman's Union, and the ladies are calling the members each week and urging them to attend the Bible School and the Church services. This is part of a nation-wide movement among the Christian Churches.

Rev. Bruner will speak Sunday morning on "George Washington and Law Enforcement." For the next seven Sunday mornings he will speak on the general theme of "Mornings With the Master," a series of sermons built around the great morning scenes and experiences in the life of Jesus. During Sunday evenings in March he will speak on the general theme, "What's on the Student's Mind: About the Bible; About God; About Jesus Christ; About the Church." Rev. Bruner has asked the students and faculty members of De-Pauw university to answer a list of questions which were published in the DePauw, and desires to give the local touch to these Sunday evening sermons. A box will be placed in the vestibule of the Church Sunday for answers to these questions, or for any other observations or questions the students may have to make or ask on this general subject. A number of interesting surveys have been made in colleges and universities recently concerning the attitude of the students toward religion and the Church. Rev. Bruner has made a digest of several of these surveys and will use this material in his series of sermons.

A NICE STUNT

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., Feb. 18 (UP)—Though the laity are advised against trying it, it is apparently no great trick for an engineer who knows his engines, to be struck and run over by a speeding locomotive, and escape with a few minor scratches.

Peter Yutemeyer, 48, Big 4 engineer demonstrated here a few days ago how it should be done. Yutemeyer jumped from in front of an on-coming passenger train, only to land in the path of a swiftly backing switch engine. He was thrown forward and fell on his face, his body parallel with the tracks. The engine and tender passed completely over him before the horrified driver brought the engine to a grinding stop.

Yutemeyer arose and dusted his clothes unhurt, and then proceeded to show how closely he missed death. A brake hanger that would have dragged him beneath the wheels missed his body by inches, the air hose which scratched his face, barely touched him, his clothes were not even torn.

REBEL FORCES SCORE MINOR servatives were killed in raids by General Sandino's rebel forces in the district of Trinidad, advises here said today.

Sandino was reported to have evaded United States Marines, guarding Matagalpa, and to have staged raids in the Trinidad district.

The mayor and telegraph operator of Trinidad were reported among those killed after their houses had been burned. A merchant establishment belonging to William Hooper, German Vice Consul, was reported ransacked by the raiding forces.

HOWARD HIGGINS IS COACH OF ARGUERS.

FORMERLY LIVED HERE

Prof. J. P. Lange Was The Critic

 Used In Debate.

The DePauw university negative debate team composed of Howard Peterson, George Williams and Leon Schmidt bested the Miami affirmative arguers in a debate held in Meharry hall Friday evening at 7 o'clock.
 A large crowd attended the debate.

The question involved was, "Resolved: That the United States should cease to protect American private, foreign property." Prof. J. P. Lange of Chicago was the critic judge. The single judge plan was used.

The speakers of both teams were complimented on their work exhibited during the debate on both the construction and presentation. Howard Higgins, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. T.
 Higgins, and a graduate of the University is the coach of the Miami team.

Mr. Higgins graduated from De-Pauw with the class of 1922 and is a member of the Delta Upsilon fraternity.

Youthful Inmate Prefers Prison
 To State Farm

FARM ESCAPE HELD IN CITY JAIL AT INDYPLS. LEFT SUNDAY.

Expressing hope that his break from the Indiana State Farm at Put-namville, Ind., would result in his sentence to another prison, George Reynolds, 23, of Brooklyn, N. Y., was at the city jail today at Indianapolis recuperating from a five day battle with cold and hunger. Reynolds with eight other men overpowered a guard at the farm Sunday and escaped by using his keys. Since he has been walking railroad tracks at night and remaining under cover in empty freight cars in daytime he told Lieut.
 Fred Drinkut, at police headquarters Friday night when he gave himself up, with the words, "I am half frozen, nearly starved to death and if they only send me to some other prison I feel that my purpose in the break for freedom will be rewarded.

Reynolds had been assigned to work in the stone quarry at the prison. He was sentenced at Warsaw, Ind., for breaking in freight railroad cars.
 Sentence for prison escape is one to five years police said.

 for the Chile steamship company of
 New York.

The Delta Theta Tau examination announced for Sunday afternoon has

FIVE WOMEN ON JURY TO

GIRL SLAYER TO BE TRIED FOR MURDER OF IVY THOMS, DRUGGIST.

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Feb. 18.
 —Five women and seven men will occupy the jury box when trial of Edward Hickman and Welby Hunt for the murder of Ivy Thoms is resumed Monday.

However, the state still holds 22 peremptory challenges and the defense nine, so a jury may not be selected for at least one more court session.

The majority of the dismissed prospective veniremen announced they already had a fixed opinion of guilt.

District attorney Asa Keyes said he expected the taking of evidence to start not later than Tuesday.

Hickman and Hunt are charged with killing Ivy Thoms, Druggist, during a holdup.

Slippery Roads Cause Accidents

BREAD TRUCK WENT INTO THE DITCH NEAR REELSVILLE
 SATURDAY MORNING.

A number of accidents were reported Saturday due to the slippery conditions of the roads and highways in the county. A truck of the Grenman Company of Terre Haute, went off the road, near Reelsville Saturday morning. The car was damaged to some extent but the driver escaped serious injury.

One person in driving from Indianapolis to Greencastle reported that he saw eleven cars in the ditch and another person, later in the morning reported that he counted twenty-one off the road.

Drivers in the city experienced some trouble but serious accidents were averted.

Reports are many that have come in concerning serious accidents on the National road Friday night and Saturday. One report was that a person was killed and still another report was that two persons were killed. As far as could be learned the reports were unfounded.

The National road was the most dangerous in its history, according to motorists who reached this city. A dozen cars were reported wrecked between the intersection of 43 and ML Meridian. A big truck and several cars were in the ditch on the hill near the Dan Moffett farm, and farther east, it was reported three persons had been killed in wrecks.

A pool of blood near Mt. Meridian was unexplained, as no one found a body, but reports said it looked as though some one had died in the roadway. A bus was said to have picked up a body near Plainfield.

Willing Workers Meet.

On February the 2nd., the Willing Workers of the Somerset church, with several visitors met at the home of Mrs. John Watts. The morning was spent in a social way and at the noon hour all were invited to the dining room where a most bountiful dinner had been spread, prepared by those present, with a good supply by the hostess. After thanks had been offered, all did justice to the good eats.

The afternoon meeting was opened by singing "Sweet Hour of Prayer," with Mrs. Hallie Hibbs as accompanist. Mrs. Priest, the president, then gave a talk on Scripture, followed by Scripture reading and prayer. Mrs. Davis also offered a short prayer. Then came the secretary's report with roll call. The responses to the roll call were quotations and poems, pertaining to the lives of Washington and Lincoln, as February was their birth month. During the responses, Mrs. Mattie Priest read "O Captain My Captain" and Mrs. Hibbs read, Lincoln's Gettysburg Address.

The business part of the meeting was then taken up. Some bills were allowed, dues paid, the penny flower fund collected and several things discussed, then each member was asked to bring one finished article to our next meeting as a shower for a future bazaar, which all agreed to begin working for at the next meeting. A program was given out for the next meeting which will be held at the home of Mrs. Sam Baird on the first Thursday in March. The meeting in the afternoon to be opened by singing, Scripture reading; and then "prayers for the growth of the church," by a number of the members, followed by a discussion and talks on the following topics: "What the Church means to our community," "Financing the Church," and "How may attendance be increased?"

As this completed the business part of the meeting a short program was given. Mrs. Sarah Baird read a short synopsis of Lincoln's life. Then a discussion on the life of Lincoln followed after which Mrs. Davis gave a humorous reading entitled, "Jim was elected." Next came a short review of the book of St. Mathew, followed by a talk by Mrs. Priest on some topics of interest to the "Workers". The hour was getting late, so all were then dismissed and left for their homes thanking Mrs. Watts for the pleasant day they had enjoyed together.

AMERICAN LEGION QUOTA

The local post of the American Legion has a quota of one hundred members for 1928. The will endeavor to fill this quota in a membership drive to be launched on Thursday next. There are now over seven hundred ex-service men residing in Putnam County. The Brazil Post having fewer service men in Clay County to draw from, now has 227 members and expect to get more. Rockville and Danville Posts now have over 150 members each. With so many to draw from and only one other post in the County there is no reason why the Greencastle Post should not be one of the largest posts in the fifth district.

A Farmer's Institute was held at Cloverdale on Saturday.

CUBS DEFEAT
CLINTON FIVE
IN CLOSE TILTLOCAL QUINTET TURNS BACK VERMILION COUNTY SQUAD.
28 TO 25.Greencastle Leads 15 To 13 At The Half. Lear Snags Two From Past Center.

Greencastle high school's fighting Tiger Cubs defeated the Clinton quintet, 28 to 25 on the local gym floor Friday night. The score at the intermission was 15 to 13 in favor of Bausman's Purple and Gray netters. Lear was outstanding for the winners with Shannon looking best for the losers.

Shannon dropped in the first field goal soon after the initial tip-off.
Tobin, Cub guard, was fouled and made good his toss from the charity stripe. Lear connected for his first basket. Marsh made a free throw and Brown duplicated. With the score standing, 6 to 3 for the Cubs, Greencastle took time out and "Spike" Kelly, Clinton coach, sent Antonini into the fray to relieve Cogan. Foncannon registered and Shannon broke loose for his second field goal, trying the count at 6-all.

Tobin found the range but this two point lead was quickly overcome by Shannon, making it 8 to 8. Tobin sank one from the foul line and Lear collected his second field goal from out past the foul circle. Cogan went back for Antonini with the score standing 11 to 9. Marsh connected from the side of the court and the count was knotted at 11-all. Tobin agitated the draperies but Griffith, a Clinton sub, was able to do the same thing, and the count was again tied at 13 to 13. On a pretty fellow up shot, Masten put Greencastle ahead, 15 to 13 as the half ended.

To start the final period, Coach Bausman was forced to insert G.
Crawley into the local lineup to replace Brown who was taken suddenly ill. Foncannon tied the score at 15-all. Lear shot from past the center of the floor and put the locals out into he lead. Foncannon made good two free throws on two free throws on two different plays and the old ball game was tied up again at 17 to 17.

Longden finally got loose for his first field goal of the contest but Marsh and Cogan each dropped the ball through the hoop from the charity stripe and the tilt was tied at 19-19. Lear dropped in another beauty from way back center only to see Shannon tie it up at 21 to 21. Masten made good a free throw and Hazelett went in for Cogan. Hazelett by accident, more than anything else, got his hands on the ball in the shuffle under the basket and threw it through the hoop to put Clinton ahead, 23 to 22.

Kerr went in for Lear and Clinton attempted to stall. The Cubs took the ball away from them and Brown sank a basket from the side of the floor to put the locals ahead, 24 to 23. Longden crashed under the basket for another field goal. Antonini, Gilliatt and Gilford were shoved into the game by Coach Kelly. Shannon tackled Tobin and the Cub made good the throw. Shannon again tried to "rough" Tobin and the Greencastle boy put the ball through the hoop for the second time, making Greencastle's score 28 to Clinton's 23. Gilford in the last half minute of play found the range and the game ended, 28 to 25 in favor of the Cubs, after being tied nine different times and with the count seesawing back and forth. Both teams fought hard, but play of the Cubs was very ragged at times, especially during the first half.

In a certain raider, the Junior Cubs soundly trounced the Spencer Juniors 40 to 14. The local youngsters led at the half, 18-4.

"Jimmie"
Greencastle 28;
Clinton 25.
Revenge is sweet.

This the first time we have ever come right out and said anything in our column about the officiating at a game, but we do want to say right here that the job done by the referee and umpire last night was about the worst we ever saw or ever hope to see. Not only were Pike and Bogue missing fouls on Clinton but they missed several on Greencastle. Coach Bausman said after the game that Pike was certainly "off" and Coach Kelly of Clinton found plenty of fault with the umpire. Pike usually follows a game with a keen eye. As for Bogue he is said to be coach of football at the new Washington high school in Indianapolis. We only hope that he stays there and coaches football and that a basket ball umpire is secured for the game with Garfield here next week.

Wallie Longden and Willie Masten were a little "off" last night in addition to the officials.

Of course both of the Cub forwards were rushed by the Clinton defense but they usually play a steadier game and we're hoping they're on next week against Attica and Garfield.

Shannon was the "dead eye Dick" of the visitors. He registered four beautiful shots from out on the floor and played a splendid defensive game.

Clinton brought over a nice delegation of fans. They went home disappointed, however, as they really believed their boys would defeat the Tiger Cubs.

Loganport had a tough time beating Rochester. The Berries were ahead 20 to 17 at the half and that is all that saved them. Rochester outscored them 18 to 16 during the final twenty minutes of the tilt.

Isn't basket ball funny? Greencas-tle walloped Manual 64 to 24. Brazil only beat them by ten points, 38 to 29, yet Brazil wins from the Cubs by two points. Tonight, the Manual Bears invade the Brazil lair. On the small floor down at the Clay county seat, we believe Muncie will find it tough sledding to defeat Coach Adams' basketeers.

Bausman's proteges will play Attica at Veedersburg on Wednesday night of next week and then entertain Garfield on the local floor; on Friday. This winds up the season for Greencastle with the exception of the sectional tournament on March 2-3.
The regional tourney comes the following Saturday, March 10 and the state finals at Indianapolis a week later.

To Lear and Jimmie Tobin goes the biggest share of the credit for last night's victory. Lear sank five field

QUALITY AT LOW COST

A HOME THAT SUGGESTS THE FARMHOUSE OF FRANCE.
(By R. C. Hunter & Bro., Architects, New York.)

This house reflects in its architecture the old French farmhouses, the broad low roof, small individual dormers, white stucco walls, and batten shutters are all in harmony.

One enters the house through the artistic curved headed batten door into a stair-hall. On the left is a large living room with open fireplace and a French door leading out into the glazed-in Sun porch.

There is a double opening connecting the living room and the adjoining dining room. This room also has a French door to the sun porch.

The kitchen, rear entry, with space for the ice box, etc., are at the rear of the house, and there is a maid's room and bath in the little extension to the right. This room could be used as a den, sewing room or child's room if preferred.

On the second floor one finds three generous bedrooms and a bath. All bedrooms have ample light and ventilation, two of them are provided with large ward-robies and the other one has a good sized closet. There is also a linen closet on this floor.

This combination of unusual and artistic exterior and thoroughly practical plan leaves nothing to be desired.

To give this house a proper setting, it should have a lot with a frontage of not less than sixty-five feet.

Cost about $10,100.

Complete working plans and specifications of this house may be obtained for a nominal sum from the Building Editor. Refer to House H-

TWO MIRACLES OF POWER

LESSON TEXT—Mark 4:35-41.
GOLDEN TEXT—What manner of man is this that even the wind and the sea obey him?
PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Still the Storm.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus Rules the Storm.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Universal Power of Jesus.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Jesus' Power over Nature and Human Life.

1. Jesus Calms the Sea (vv. 35-41).
1. Crossing the sea (vv. 35, 36).
Wearied by teaching the multitudes, He proposed that they take ship at evening time to the other side of the sea, doubtless to escape from the throngs of people.
2. Overcome by a storm (v. 37).
Even though Jesus was in the boat with the disciples they were overtaken by a storm. It is not God's will that we should escape the storms, but those who have Christ on their boat are safe because that boat cannot go down.

3. Jesus asleep in the storm-tossed boat (v. 38).
In the midst of the turbulent elements He was resting in sleep. The day had been a very strenuous one and He was weary. He who made the sea could well lie down and sleep, though the storm violently raged.

4. The terrified disciples (v. 38).
In their minds nothing but disaster and death awaited them. They were not only terrified, but they chided Jesus for sleeping while they were in such great danger.

5. Christ's rebuke (vv. 39, 40).
(1) The wind (v. 39).
This showed the Lord's mighty power to control the forces of nature.
(2) The disciples (v. 40).
He rebuked them for their lack of faith. He showed that they were looking upon their circumstances instead of upon their Lord.

6. The effect upon the disciples (v. 41).
They were filled with great fear. A little while ago they were afraid in the face of the storm; now they are afraid in the presence of the Lord.

II. Jesus Heals the Gadarene Demoniac (5:1-20).
After the stilling of the tempest, Jesus crossed to the other side of the sea into heathen territory.

1. Met by a demon possessed man (vv. 1-6).
This man was in a desperate condition. He was so fierce that no one could safely pass that way. He wore no clothes (Luke 8:27). No chains were strong enough to hold him and no one was able to tame him. In the night time his hideous cries could be heard while he vented his rage by cutting himself with stones. Many today are demon possessed. Much of the insanity of the age is traceable to this cause. As the coming of the Lord draweth nigh these things will increase (1 Tim. 4:1).

2. What the demons knew about Christ (vv. 7-9).
They knew that He was the Son of God and that He had come to destroy the devil and his works. Among the demons there is no doubt as to the deity of Christ and the judgment to come, though we have many theologians and preachers who say they do not believe it. The devil blinds their eyes so they cannot understand (II Cor. 4:4).

3. Christ's power to deliver from the devil (vv. 10-13).
He cast out the demons from the man (v. 8). The demons quail before Christ, not daring to dispute His power, so they begged to be permitted to enter the swine. As soon as the Lord issued the permit, they hastened away to hurl the swine to destruction.

4. The effect upon the people of the city (vv. 14-17).
The keepers of the swine fled to the city and made report of what had occurred. This miracle brought the people out, but when they realized the loss of their hogs they sought Him to leave their coasts. They cared more for their hogs than for Christ and the cure of this man. These Gadarenes have many successors today.

The man who was healed sent home to testify (vv. 18-20).
No doubt it would have been safe and pleasant to abide with Jesus, but his friends needed his testimony. The best witness for Christ is one who has been saved by Him. The best place to begin that testimony is at home where one is known best.

Let Christ Do It

SYNOPSIS

Jim Boyd, head of an international band of criminals, hurries from New York to Chicago to direct a bank robbery and to learn what truth there is in the report that Mona Gale, a cabaret dancer with whom he is fascinated, has been "playing" with a rich youth named Jack Waring. Boyd does not suspect that Jack is his own son, the little boy taken away by Ruth Boyd when she deserted him in New York twenty years before after he deceived her by promising to go straight. Jack, likewise, knows nothing of his real father and when Mona leaves him to meet Jim he is overcome by jealousy. His half-sister, Sylvia, finds him helplessly drunk at a cabaret and with the aid of Tom Hardy, a reporter, takes him home. She is attracted to Tom but refuses to tell him her name, saying she is another reporter. Jim finally corners Mona in her room and demands to know about the young Chicagoan.

"Who's the man?" he asked sharply. "Now don't lie. You've been running around with some rich young squirt."

"Leave go my wrist, Jim," she faltered. "Sure. But I'm only playin' him for all that I can get. There's nothin' else in it."

"What's his name?" Jim asked relentlessly.

"Jack Waring," she whispered. "Waring?" Jim scratched his head. "Seems to me I heard the name before."

"His father's a rich lawyer," said Mona.

"Oh, yes. And so you're playing the son, are you?" He tightened his grip on her wrist so that her face went white under her rouge.

"And where do I come in?"

"How do you mean?" she asked weakly.

"I mean this," and he took her was not altogether happy. The man she cared for above all others was not to be present tonight. Sylvia had never told Tom Hardy her real name. In the first place, she had felt that the episode in the Night-club might reflect discredit to the Waring name. But after Tom had reassured her that he would not print the story, Sylvia had got quite a thrill out of leading the young man to suppose that she was a society reporter. She knew that young Hardy had no money but the salary he earned. The fact, therefore, that he gave every indication of being in love with her, despite his ignorance of Sylvia's real identity, was a sweet knowledge that the girl held close to her heart.

Though Tom Hardy was not present at Sylvia's first reception, she could feel his spirit beside her, she could smell his blessed pipe smoke. The orchestra, one of the famous jazz bands of the Loop, was tuning up, when Sylvia saw her brother approaching across the ball-room. He was dressed for the evening, and looked extremely handsome. But when Jack drew close to Sylvia, she saw that he looked embarrassed.

"I'm—a-trotting along, Sylvia," he said, unable to meet her eyes. "I hope your reception is the biggest kind of success, and I'll try to be back before it's over."

"Oh—Jack!" she could not suppress her deep disappointment. "I think it's fearfully mean of you."

"I know it." He stood there looking as if he were the one who needed sympathy, rather than his sister.

"Are you going to see—her?" asked Sylvia.

"Of course you'd much rather see her father than your own sister," she said on the verge of tears, and walked away from him. But he followed her, and as the orchestra

Are you going to see—her?

roughly in his arms and kissed her mouth.

She struggled for a moment in his arms, and then relaxed, weeping. "You're hard on me," she wept.

He freed her, a bit contemptuously. He knew his power over her and despised her weakness. At the same time, he was man enough to resent the idea of another man taking her away from him. He had never really loved a woman since Ruth. And yet it was Ruth, ironically enough, who had instilled in him a contempt for women. If the only woman a man ever loved could be cruel, what about the others?

"I suppose you're going to blackmail this young fool who's running after you?" he asked now.

"Something like that," she whispered.

"Well, be careful," he said. "And don't go fall in love with him."

"No fear," she laughed. "Maybe you don't know it, but you're the man I love."

"Love," he said contemptuously. "There isn't a spark of genuine love in you—or in any other woman."

"That's because you've been disappointed," he answered. "But don't judge all women by one."

"Hey? What's that?" he asked, approaching her with fire in his eyes. "What woman do you mean?"

"How do I know?" she asked in fear. "I was just sayin', you must have had a disappointment once."

"Well, you just keep your mouth shut and quit thinking about my disappointments. That's my business."

"All right, Jim."

As he left her, he was thinking that only when he was with a woman did he lose his customary smoothness and polish. Somehow a woman had the power of drawing the beast out of him. Yet, even in the act of recognizing the beast, he could feel a contempt for it and for the woman.

When Jim Boyd returned to his own room that night, he heard newshoys in the street crying out, "Extra! Extra! All about the big bank robbery!" He smiled to himself and forgot about Mona. He felt that he had reached the greatest moment of his life.

But he was mistaken. The great moment lay ahead.

Sylvia Waring was hostess at her first reception and dance. As she descended the stairs into the magnificent Waring ball-room, she looked a picture of beauty. A white dress with a single rose at her hip, a circle of diamonds in her beautiful hair-colored hair, Sylvia was a vision to behold. But she started up the first waltz, he took Sylvia in his arms and danced with her. "Don't be a silly kid," he said. "I promise to be back before your party breaks up. If Dad and mother ask about me, you can say—"

"Oh, what difference does it make?" said Sylvia petulantly. "The same old alibis that are never believed!"

Sylvia left her brother abruptly after the dance, and she felt a bit sorry for the way she had spoken to him. After all, the poor boy was head over heels in love, and it was expecting too much of him to be civil and generous under the circumstances. Or was it? At any rate, Sylvia felt that Mona Gale was an enemy, a thief who had stolen Jack away from his sister, his father and mother.

But once Jack arrived at the Flowerland that night, he forgot about his sister's disappointment. Once he set foot in the nightclub, a fever of desire seemed to take possession of him, and he was no longer responsible for his actions. As he entered the club, he could see that the performance was on. The dining-room, the dance floor were in darkness. A vivid square of white light framed the stage. In the rear of the stage, a dozen voices were singing a sentimental ballad.

What does it matter,
So long as I love you,
So long as you love me,
What does it matter?

And in the front of the stage, Mona Gale danced with a grace that held her audience under a spell of admiration. Mona was a natural dancer of the ball-room type, and what she lacked in technical skill, she more than made up for in personality and appearance. She knew how to dress. She wore now, a crystal gown that caught the radiance of the spot-light and seemed to cast off a thousand particles of diamond dust.

After the number, Jack went back into one of the private rooms where Mona had told him she would be waiting. This was a small, room, gaudily furnished with pink drapes, gilt chairs and many long mirrors set in the walls. There were five or six of these rooms in the Flowerland, and they never lacked for gay liquor parties in the early hours of the morning. Wise-crackers of the "Loop" were fond of referring to these chambers as "Ruination rooms." Many a young poorer than when he entered.

As Jack closed the door of the room behind him, he was smothered in a perfumed embrace. He felt giddy with the unexpectedness of the caress. "Oh, darling, was't I good tonight?" asked Mona.

LANGDON GENIUS AT PEAK IN HIS LATEST COMEDY.

At The Granada.

The thousands of theater-goers who have come to expect something out of the ordinary in a Harry Langdon feature comedy will not be disappointed when they see "Three's a Crowd," the sad-eyed funster's newest feature, which comes to the Granada Theater Monday and Tuesday.

Langdon, who always has unusual and sometimes revolutionary "slants" in his productions, has outdone himself in "Three's a Crowd."

In the characterization of his heroine, Gladys McConnell, he has introduced a surprise which even outclasses his introduction of a blind heroine in his late "The Strong Man."

The "Last Run" is a big one

WHEN a Big Four engineer makes active service at the age of 70 is not some railroad. He has traveled a mile equal to several round trips from the moon.

Day after day, year after year, in all weather, he has shown those high qualities of mind and which are demanded in this trust and responsibility.

And then comes the last run. No more friends and neighbors, and his fellow-workers of it a gala event. Flags and bunting on the flowers and gifts, and cheers when he from his cab at the end of the run.

And then to honorable retirement as part of the Big Four.
